BioActive Lipids

Next Generation Omega-3 Purity Standards

orthoplex

Omega-3 fatty acids play an important role in normal growth and development, and are essential for general health and wellbeing.

The properties of Omega-3 fatty acids may change when they are made into capsules or bottled. This process is known as oxidation and can lead to degradation of the Omega-3. This results in a "fishy" smell and taste which may effect the quality of the Omega-3. Orthoplex BioActive Lipids are specifically manufactured to reduce the occurrence of oxidation. They are sustainably sourced from the highest quality Omega-3, while also providing a pleasant vanilla and lime taste.

Extensive research and experience has led to the development of this great formulation, so you can feel comfortable and confident about the Orthoplex range.

How it Works

The human body is unable to naturally produce Omega-3 fatty acids so we have to obtain them from our diets. However, a lack of the essential fats in our modern diet can result in the need for supplementation. Orthoplex BioActive Lipids provides a highly concentrated, natural source of marine Omega-3 fatty acids that may provide a number of benefits.
